Minor municipal Council declared as such under Section 187 The definition is clear it means that whenever a municipality has to be declared a Minor municipal Council, action should be taken as under Section 181 and whenever it has to be declared a minor municipal Council action is necessary under Section 187 of the Regulation All municipalities which are not declared as noted above are to be included under Town municipal Councils No special notification is necessary declaring a municipality as a Town municipality

A draft letter informing the decision of the above facts is submitted for approval and other orders.

19/12/1919 This question was informally considered with proposing the Constitution of Municipal Councils and the above interpretation has been accepted as correct It should however that in proposing the Constitution of Town Councils, the elected proportion has been retained according to the secretariat and to be as soon as conveniently published in accordance with the provisions of the Local Enactment, a Gazette notification declaring them as such is not necessary. There is however no objection to this, which for city & municipal elections, Gazette publication is the best. Each municipal declaration of results of elections will be sent accordingly

3) What is the effect of declaring a Municipal Council the City Council, Municipal Council and if there is any such effect why did it not apply to the new Municipal Council also? The effect of declaring a Municipal Council a Municipal Council is to give the power and certain duties of the Municipal Council. The only such effect is the demand by the declaration of a Municipal Council as a Town Council, that is the distinction there between a City Council & a Town Council & why did the Legislature have considered a declaration necessary in respect of the former & not in respect of the latter.

Note. One of the objects of the declaration is to bring the provisions of the Act in force in the City. That is why the declaration is necessary for the Municipal Council.

1) The classification of the several municipalities into city, Town & minor was effected after careful deliberation and much thought, having in view the importance, population, probable revenue and the enlightenment of the area — (Please see Parts I, II & III and Appendix D of the note on the development of Local Self-Government)

2) The effect of declaring a local area as a municipality is to permit it to exercise the powers and functions mentioned in the Regulation. The needs of each local area vary in the degree according to the factors referred to in para 1 above and consequently certain additional powers are granted or certain restrictions are imposed on the areas.

3) Whenever a rural council is declared to be a city municipal council under Sec 181, it can exercise all the powers referred to in the Reg.
